"Rich in Legacy...Focused on the Future"

Hello Future Digital Divas Sponsor,

On Saturday, February 3rd, 2018, McKinney High School will be hosting Digital Divas, an all girls' high school computer programming competition. We will have three divisions: a Beginner Division for girls with little-to-no programming experience, a Novice Division for girls with general experience in computer science, and an Advanced Division for girls with greater programming experience. We also hope to have a non-competitive division for those who wish to attend workshop sessions to learn about coding. Through Digital Divas, we seek to continue the tradition of introducing girls to computer science and promote the presence of women in the STEM work force.

Quote from one of last year's contestants: "My name is Han Nguyen, and I participated in the 2017 Digital Divas competition earlier this year. To say the experience was amazing would be an understatement. Competing in one of the tournament divisions, I earned myself second place along with my two teammates. As I had never competed before, this really shined light on what I was truly capable of, without even taking into account the knowledge I gained on that day. I was honored to find that this school year, in 2018, McKinney High School is hosting the event. I want other girls to be able to feel the same positive impact towards computer science that I felt, and I am excited to showcase the true power of girls in the technological fields. However, to be able to convert this from a dream to reality, we require financial support."

Digital Divas is currently in its fifth year, and is continuing to grow. This year, we expect approximately 300 high school girls from the Dallas, Fort Worth, Houston, and Austin areas. We are asking your organization for support in order to continue making a major impact on the world of coding.

If your organization is interested in supporting our mission through financial support and/or volunteer speakers or exhibitors, we ask that you complete and return the attached form. If you have any questions, please contact our event coordinator, and computer science teacher, Mrs. Theresa Horvath at thorvath@mckinneyisd.net.

With your help, we can promote computer science to a more diverse audience, and ultimately empower women in pursuing such an exciting field of technology. Thank you for your belief in our mission.

Sincerely,
McKinney High School Digital Divas Planning Committee
